1. INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this assessment plan is to generate appropriate information to evaluate if Daybreak University is achieving its institutional mission and educational objectives. The assessment plan is comprehensive in that it covers the following areas:

- Board and administration
- Programs and student learning
- Student services
- Finances
- Facilities and equipment

The assessment plan is an important part of Daybreak' commitment to establish a culture of assessment. Throughout the assessment process we try to regularly involve our key constituencies—students, faculty, administrators, staff, and alumni—and actively promote their awareness of the assessment issues.

We are committed to integrating the assessment and planning processes. We embrace, as a normative practice, interpretation, and application of the assessment information in various meetings and in such contexts as long-term planning, program design and revision, faculty recruitment and development, and budget priorities and allocation.

2. BOARD AND ADMINISTRATION

2.1. Board of Directors Performance

The purpose of the Board of Directors evaluation is to identify areas of board functioning that are working well and those that may need improvement. It is an opportunity for an open and candid discussion about directors' responsibilities and their interests and desires for Daybreak University. Exploring these areas fosters communication among directors and leads to a more cohesive board. The desired outcomes of a board self-evaluation include:

- A summary of what the board does well and its accomplishments.
- A better understanding of what is needed from each director and the CEO to be an effective board and board/CEO team.
- An assessment of progress on the prior year's goals and identify what needs to be completed.
- And goals and tasks for the coming year related to board performance.

Appendix A: Board Self-Evaluation Form

3. PROGRAMS AND STUDENT LEARNING

3.1. Assessment Approach and Oversight

Assessment is a strategy for understanding, confirming, and improving student learning through a continuous, systematic process. Assessment of student learning takes place throughout the program and occurs in all courses. All student learning outcomes for the degree programs are assessed based on annual cycle, using direct and indirect methods. Direct and indirect evidence of student learning is analyzed and interpreted at a faculty meeting in spring.

The degree program directors cooperate with the director of assessment and planning. It is the responsibility of the program director to monitor the activities of assessment that occur in the program. The program director leads the assessment conversation held each spring and writes the assessment report due to the university at the end of the academic year.

Use of Assessment Data

The degree programs use the assessment data to make evidence-based improvements to the program.

- Meet with students directly to discuss their performance.
- Analyze and discuss trends with the faculty.
- Analyze and report to the university.
- Analyze and report to accrediting bodies.
- Make improvements in curricular requirements.
- Make improvements in course content, delivery and learning activities.
- Make improvements in learning facilities, equipment, and resources.
- Periodically confirm that current curriculum and courses are facilitating student attainment of program expectations.

3.2. Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) in Psychology

B.A. in Psychology (BAP) has a set of measurable outcomes indicating how students can demonstrate their learning. Most program learning outcomes are written in a way that encourages students to contextualize what they are learning, as well as indicate to faculty what evidence they need to collect to evaluate the outcomes.

Program Learning Outcomes (PLO)

When students complete the Bachelor of Arts in Psychology Degree, they will have the ability to:

- 1. Identify appropriate basic research methods to test hypotheses empirically and apply psychology theory to scientific questions and real-world problems.
- 2. Identify how diversity impacts individual and social behavior.
- 3. Employ appropriate ethics and principles in psychological settings.
- 4. Apply psychological content and skills to career goals.

Curriculum Mapping

The student learning outcomes of the B.A. in Psychology program are generally aligned with the required curriculum. Daybreak uses curriculum mapping which allows faculty to indicate which of the outcomes each of their course's addresses. Generally, the course learning outcomes stated in course syllabi are aligned with the appropriate program learning outcomes. The stated course learning outcomes are useful in creating curriculum maps.

3.8.1. Direct Assessment

Juried Review for the Supervision (Supervisor Training)

Evaluation is carried out at the conclusion of the supervision (supervisor training) with the supervisor.

Comprehensive Examination

All candidates for the graduation must pass a written comprehensive examination over the major field of study. These examinations serve as a major means of evaluating the student's academic competency in the major area. Only two retakes of the examination are permitted.

Appendix D: MAC Comprehensive Exam Procedure

Dissertation

The Ph.D. dissertation is the bulk of the doctoral program. Doctoral students have two options to complete their dissertation: (1) A Ph.D. dissertation which is between 100 to 200 pages in length (2) An article type dissertation. The article type dissertation incudes one full-length article that is publishable quality within a peer-reviewed journal. This article must be empirical in nature; that is, the student should conduct original data analyses of some kind (e.g., quantitative, qualitative, historical, program development).

All dissertations should adhere to regulations and requirements from the Daybreak University. Students who are considering this format are strongly encouraged to confer with their dissertation chair as early as possible, since an article-style dissertation may not be the best approach for all students and dissertation topics.

A theme should be submitted in writing within sixty days of acceptance into the program. State your proposed dissertation idea in two to three sentences explaining what you hope to cover in your dissertation. The dissertation should be written in a way that it would be worthy of public distribution. The dissertation should introduce the theme and then in detail research the theme and provide the exposition or details of the theme. Footnotes and research notes should be noted numerically after each quote with the source listed.

Appendix E: Student Dissertation Self-Assessment Tool Appendix F: Committee Dissertation Evaluation Rubric An Oral Defense of a Dissertation

The dissertation is prepared, submitted, and defended in an oral examination. Students can do this oral defense only after they have successfully completed course work, comprehensive examination, and a submission of dissertation.

Capstone Courses

Daybreak has identified capstone courses for the purpose of assessing students' achievement of a specific program learning outcome. Each outcome is assessed when the corresponding capstone course is offered. The assessment of the individual outcomes involves embedded assignments or capstone experiences (e.g., supervision, ministry projects, dissertation, etc.). It also includes analysis and implementation of improvements.

3.8.2. Indirect Assessment

Student Evaluation of Course Instruction

Students evaluate courses and instructors at the end of the quarter or session.

Appendix H: Evaluation of Course Instruction Form

Student Exit Survey

Graduating students are asked to participate in an evaluation of their experience in the degree program. The goal is to improve the program ensuring that future students have a useful and rewarding experience at Daybreak. Students may choose an exit interview which generally lasts about 30 minutes. Two members of the faculty conduct the in-person exit interview in an effort to find out what has been working well and what needs to be improved.

3.9. Peer Review of Teaching

Daybreak requires peer reviews of teaching for all full-time faculty. Peer Review, which involves inclass observations and collegial discussion, helps prompt continuous learning and development among faculty. These interactions create opportunities for faculty members to reflect on and adapt their teaching practices in order to become better teachers and increase student learning. Specific criteria for peer reviews reflect five important aspects of teaching:

- Intellectual content of the material taught, including relevance, breadth and depth.
- Instructor's grasp of the material; ability to present content clearly and logically, to place specific material within thematic contexts and to demonstrate the significance and relevance of course content.
- Instructor's ability to engage and challenge students and to teach critical thinking and questioning skills.
- Instructor's ability to provide intellectual inspiration and leadership and to awaken new interests.
- Instructor's use of innovative approaches to teaching and/or use of instructional technology to enhance the learning process.

4. STUDENT SERVICES

4.1. Student Satisfaction

Each year, the degree program administers an anonymous survey of student satisfaction. This survey for students collects both quantitative and qualitative data, and samples the following domains: interactions with faculty, staff and students, course content and materials, enrollment and advising, financial aid, library resources, and technical support.

The doctoral committee composed of at least three members of the institution evaluates students' academic performance and progress by following measures and procedures.

- 1. Maintain an appropriate coursework GPA: minimum 3.0 for each quarter, receiving a B or better in each of courses.
- 2. Submit and pass dissertation proposal.
- 3. Complete research method courses: at least B grades

- 5. Submit a first draft of dissertation for the doctoral committee for review.
- 6. Submit a revision of the draft for approval to schedule oral defense.
- 7. Pass an oral defense.
- 8. Submit a final version of dissertation to be printed.

At the end of each quarter, the doctoral committee review all students' transcripts to ensure that students are maintaining required GPAs and other requirements as specified above. Any student that has received a grade lower than B in any course is required to retake the course. Students identified as making inadequate progress may be required to complete a remediation plan, placed on academic probation, or dismissed from the program. Instructors may apply the following actions for students caught engaging in any form of academic dishonesty:

- Give a zero for that assignment.
- Allow a rewrite and resubmit the assignment for credit.
- Assign a reduced grade for the course.
- Drop the student from the course.
